Construction Update

A.D. HENDERSON & FAU HIGH SCHOOL

New Building Updates

- On the last day before winter break we surprised our Faculty and Staff by identifying their space in the new building.
- It was a great way to get us all fired up for the big move this summer.

Teacher of the Year / Employee of the Year

- Congratulations to our 2023 FAU District Teacher of the Year, Rhea Francani and our 2022 FAU District Employee of the Year, Evelyn Richardson.
- Both our awardees received were surprised with their recognition before we went on winter break.

Kindergarten Polar Express

- Our Kindergarten students enjoyed hot chocolate while listening to the story of the Polar Express.
- They learned that the true spirit of the holidays lies in your heart, there is no greater gift than friendship, and sometimes the most real things in the world are things we can't see.

Middle School FAU Medical Scholars Club

- Medical Students from the FAU Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine led standards-based lessons on the human body systems to our 5th and 6th-grade future doctors and scientists.
- Students were challenged to take their knowledge of the body systems and adapt those systems to what they believed would make the "perfect" alien or superhuman.
- It was fantastic to see the students collaborate while thinking critically. At the end of the meeting each group presented their master creation.

The Cane Institute leads the way in STEM education

- Two of our Cane Institute high school students, Julianna Lian and Vivek Sreejithkumar, have been named as top 300 scholars in the 80th Regeneron Science Talent Search. They both will receive a $2,000 award and FAU High Schools will also receive $2,000 to use toward STEM-related activities. Regeneron will be announcing the top 40 finalists on January 21st.
- In addition to the incredible awards and accolades our Cane Institute middle school and high school students won at the Palm Beach Regional Science & Engineering Fair.
